

Dr Felipe Suarez

Felipe Suarez, MD. PhD, has trained in clinical immunology and hematology in Paris. He currently works in the department of adult hematology of Necker-Enfants Malades (Prof. Olivier Hermine), Paris University where he chairs the adult stem cell transplantation program. Beside general hematology, his main clinical and research interests are primary immune deficiencies associated malignancies and developing stem cell transplantation approaches for adult patients with PID.